MEMBERSHIP FORM

LABOUR HISTORY QUEENSLAND

Labour History Queensland

Labour History Queensland is a non-political Association established to encourage an interest in labour history by individuals, registered unions of employees and like-minded organisations, governments at all levels and the community in general.

Membership

Members may be either registered unions of employees, approved associations of retired employees or individuals interested in labour history. All applicants for membership must agree to be bound by the rules of the Association for the time being in force. All applications must be nominated and seconded, and approved by the Executive of the Association before they become valid. Individual members who are retirees on a pension, who are unemployed or on a disability or other benefit, or who are full-time students, may become members at the concessional rate. For those seeking concessional membership, proof of concessional status must be demonstrated. Institutional Members may become Foundation Members, which entitles them to five years membership.
